

Your Cloud Education Journey Starts Here

AWS Educate is available to veterans, transitioning veterans within one year of their discharge date, and spouses of veterans and transitioning veterans.

Why join AWS Educate ?

Transitioning military, veterans, and military spouses receive:

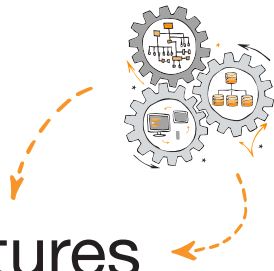

- Access to a no credit card required AWS Educate Starter Account with $50 AWS credits
- Access to AWS Educate's cloud career pathways, with 30+ hours of content, assessments, and projects
- Access to micro-credentials such as AWS Educate Certificates of Completion and AWS Educate Badges
- Access to AWS Educate Job Board with jobs and internships from Amazon and partners
- Access to AWS Business Essentials and AWS Technical Essentials online training courses

"I was exploring a number of different tech training programs available for veterans and AWS Educate from day one was really engaging. It was the only platform that I had been on that visibly was going the extra mile between the video content, bonus materials, and fun user interface. It made tech training for a newcomer inviting and I found myself taking the time to explore the site where I wasn't with other platforms on nearly the same scale."

“One of my husband’s coworkers told us that Amazon supports the military and their dependents by providing free educational tools. I was very happy to find out about it and currently taking the application developer pathway on AWS Educate. I’m also planning to study for an AWS certification exam.”
